My colleagues and I are most grateful to you for having been so generous in lending us your OSS collection last month. As you may know, this was the first time we have had an exhibit devoted exclusively to the Agency, and it was a great success. As an OSS alumnus, I found it extremely enjoyable. It is particularly gratifying to know that someone has made such an effort to gather what must be a unique collection of those items which were so important to us 40 years ago.

We do thank you so much.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
